

Georgia Camp.

Athens needs a city clock.
A long mother in Obolham, after carefully dressing her bright-eyed darling for Sunday school, was completely overcome in finding his missionary mite box filled up with bait.

The young men of Athens are organizing an orchestra musical club.
—Thomas A. Jones, of Oconee county, raised, last year, by his own untiring labor, five bushels of cotton, 180 bushels of corn, 33 bushels of wheat, 100 sheaves of oats, 4 hogs and 2 beavers.

—Boggs' Chapel, four miles from Athens, was dedicated on Sunday by Bishop Pierce.

The amateur performers at the concert for the benefit of the Presbyterian church on Friday night in Athens represented the Presbyterian, Baptist, Episcopal, Methodist, and "Christian" churches here, and the Jewish synagogue.

—Charles DeLange in Savannah, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for six years for the killing of McDonald at Thunderbolt.

—Ol. Albert R. Lamar, of Savannah, is conversing on crutches.

—Savannah negroes had broken telegraph wires with rage.

The fennel crop in Dalton is not affected by the rust.

The Dalton young men who ate the fennel hard boiled eggs, some weeks ago, at the rust, have proposed (as one meal) to eat twenty hard boiled eggs, two sandwiches, a half pound beefsteak, six biscuits, half a dozen ginger cakes, and drink two cups of coffee and a mug of beer.

Gainesville is making an effort to build an Episcopal church. They might utilize Van Lates by using him for the spire.

—Thomas Merck, of Gainesville has received a patent for his truss.

Mr. Head, of Forsyth, has an Irish lad at work on his farm. A few nights since he felt restless and could not sleep. Not to lose any time, he arose, went to the field and cut oats until 3 o'clock in the morning.

The city council of Forsyth burned $16,700.25 of city currency having no use for it.

A gentleman living in Monroe county, an applicant for a position as teacher in the public schools, sent a circular asking for the recommendation of the patrons of the school. His circular stated that among other things he proposed to teach "autographs."

One of the patrons suggested that he learn to spell it before attempting to teach it.

—Bacon received at Forsyth: 1st November, 1874, to 1st June, 1875, 516,900 pounds; 1st June, 1874, to 1st November, 1875, 272,351 pounds; 1st November, 1875, to 1st June, 1876, 290,216 pounds. The total amount received on one and a half years was 1,080,467 pounds, which estimated at twelve and one-half cents per pound gives the enormous sum of $148,738. The figures above furnish a little consolation to a feeble light shining in a very dark cloud, viz: that the quantity of meat consumed is being reduced yearly, the receipts being 126,084 pounds less during the six months ending June 1, 1876, than for the six months ending June 1, 1875.

—Andrew Ladsen, a colored lad about thirteen years old, was run over by the cars near the Augusta factory, and one leg mangled.

—Fully four hundred Anguans exerted to Washington last Sunday in preference of "going up the canal."

—Another Georgia railroad engine, the T. S. Pollard, has been sent to the shop in Augusta to be altered into a coal burner.

A gentleman living near Augusta has peaches and plums growing on the same tree. The plum branches were grafted on a peach tree.

—Rev. J. M. Callaway has left at the office of the West Point State Line Press a lot of charred jewelry, consisting of lockets, breast-pins, remnants of chains, etc., found in the ashes of a stump on his premises (the Reid place) by freedmen. The debris of watches was also discovered.

The large red rat may be exterminated with kerosene oil. The oil should be poured on freely, after sundown, when all the ants of this species have retired and closed doors for the night. Repeat the operation, at intervals of a day or so, two or three times.

—A Dalton picnic party ate some chicken cheese, after which, jerking muscles, cholera pains and other symptoms of poisoning, caused them to stampede for home. They recovered.

—Hon. J. T. Slaughter delivers the commencement address before the Carleton Masonic Institute on the 28th.

The Central railroad will pass visitors to the Griffin female college commencement at half fare.

N. H. Woodward, of Butts county, has a twig from an apple tree, a little smaller than a pencil, attached to about five and a half inches of the twig were twenty-seven ripe, well developed May apples, growing firm and fast as nature had done the work. The whole bunch, including the apples, was about eight inches long.

The amateur club of Covington, give two entertainments—one Friday and the other Monday night, for the benefit of the ladies' memorial association.

The concert on the 20th, by the pupils of the Southern Masonic female college at Covington, embraces a combination of the Old and New. The first part of the evening's exercises is to be a brief representation of music and costumes of 1776. The second those of 1876, closing with calisthenics.

—There is a man in Monroe county who can drink ten gallons of water daily and suffer no inconvenience.

MARRIED IN GEORGIA.
—W. S. Stelson of Milledgeville, to Miss Mattie Lela Woodward, of Culoden.

—W. C. Smith, Jr., to Miss Maggie Williams of Cartersville.

DIED IN GEORGIA.
—Mrs. John Moore of Hall county.
—John W. Stroud of Oconee county.
—Jacob Cohn of Sanderville.
